Title of the event: World Ozone Day Celebration - Online General Awareness Quiz

Date: September 16, 2023

Introduction:

World Ozone Day is celebrated on September 16th each year to raise awareness about the importance of the ozone layer and the need for its protection. In 2023, amidst the global pandemic and increasing concerns about environmental issues, an online general awareness quiz was organized to commemorate World Ozone Day. The event aimed to educate participants about the ozone layer, its significance, and the role individuals can play in protecting it.

Event Details:

The event was organized by Department of Chemistry in collaboration with Research Monitoring Committee. It was a virtual event. The theme for World Ozone Day 2023 was "Preserving Our Ozone Layer for Future Generations." The quiz was open to participants of all age groups and backgrounds, with a focus on students, educators, and environmental enthusiasts. The online quiz consisted of multiple-choice questions related to ozone layer depletion, environmental conservation, and climate change. Participants could join the quiz through a goggle form, which allowed for a user-friendly and accessible experience. To encourage participation and engagement, Certificates of participation were provided to all successful participants. Alongside the quiz, educational content, including articles, and infographics about the ozone layer, were shared on social media and displayed in the Department to promote understanding.

Outcome:

The event saw a significant turnout, with participants from different regions joining in to test their knowledge and learn about ozone layer protection. The social media campaign by conducting online quiz reached hundreds of people, eventually spreading the message of ozone layer conservation. By participating in the event, individuals gained a better understanding of the importance of the ozone layer and their role in preserving it.

Conclusion:

The celebration of World Ozone Day through the organization of an online general awareness quiz in 2023 proved to be a successful endeavor in educating and engaging individuals about the significance of the ozone layer. It underscored the importance of international cooperation in addressing environmental issues and encouraged participants to take concrete steps toward protecting our planet for future generations. This event served as a reminder that collective action is vital in safeguarding the Earth's natural resources.

A Report on Workshop of “ $\pi$ -Equation in Mathematics”

Department of Mathematics, Late. B. S. Arts, Prof. N. G. Science & A. G. Commerce College, Sakharkherda organized was organized one day workshop on “ $\pi$ -Equation in Mathematics” delivered by Dr. C. S. Khodre, Head Dept. of Mathematics on dated 06th October 2023 for the B.Sc. II Students. There were 64 students were participated in this workshop. A workshop on  $\pi$ -Equation in Mathematics could cover various topics related to using the software to create and edit mathematical equations. Some possible topics that could be covered in a workshop on  $\pi$ -Equation in Mathematics are: (i) Introduction to  $\pi$ -Equation in Mathematics (ii) Basic equation editing (iii) Equation numbering and referencing (iv) Typesetting of Integro-differential Equations. Students learn how to effectively use equation editors to create and format mathematical expressions, equations, and formulas. The ability to accurately and neatly present mathematical content is crucial, and this workshop aims to equip you with the necessary skills and knowledge.

Outcome: The aim of this workshop to elaborate the knowledge of mathematics students about mathematical software and how to create mathematical equation, physical equation , different types of symbols etc into documents and presentations. It helps the student to prepare their Seminar, Assignment etc. The  $\pi$ -Equation in Mathematics workshop would be a robust, user-friendly, and accessible tool that effectively meets the mathematical equation editing needs of its users.

Group Discussion

Report:

On 23th November 2023, Department of Hindi organized Group Discussion. The story 'Poos Ki Raat' deals with rural life. Halku, the hero of this story, is a simple farmer. He has a little land, on which he earns his living by farming, but the income he earns from farming is spent in repaying the loan. He has collected three rupees with great difficulty by working as a laborer to buy blankets in winter. But the moneylender takes three rupees also from him. His wife Munni strongly opposes this, but she too becomes helpless in the end. Halku goes to the farm to take care of his crops, accompanied by his pet dog Jabra. He is his companion in darkness and loneliness. It is the month of Paush. Cold wind is blowing. Halku has nothing to cover himself except a sheet. He tries to entertain himself with the dog, but there is no relief from the cold. Then he collects leaves from the nearby mango orchard and lights a bonfire. The fire of the bonfire warms his body, and he gets relief. Even after the fire is extinguished, he remains covered with a sheet due to the warmth of his body. On the other side, Nilgai enter the field. Jabra becomes alert of their sound. He barks at them. Halku also feels that Nilgai have entered the field but he remains sitting. Even when Nilgai start grazing in the fields, Halku does not wake up. Even once he wakes up, he sits down again due to the cold and finally stretches the bedsheet and goes to sleep. In the morning his wife wakes him up and tells him that the entire crop has been destroyed. She also gets worried and says that now she will have to pay the revenue by working as a labourer. 'Halku is happy at this and says that he will not have to sleep here in the cold at night!' With this the story ends.
