Date	12 Sept. 2022
Time	12.30 am to 2 pm
Venue	Seminar Hall
Organized by	Dept. of Commerce
Co-ordinator	Dr. R. P. Kitke
Number of Beneficiaries	57
Nature	Extension activity
Brief information about the activity	The event was inaugurated by Dr. P. P. Thakare. In Her speech he said that female economic power also enhances the "wealth and well-being of nations." Women who control their own income tend to have fewer children, and fertility rates have shown to be inversely related to national income growth. Women are also more able - and generally more willing than male counterparts - to send daughters as well as sons to school, even when they earn less than men. In turn, a woman's level of education affects her decision-making process when it comes to questions about contraception, age of marriage, fertility, child mortality, modern sector employment and earnings. Prof. Jaishri Sanap informed to the students women's economic empowerment must not be examined in a vacuum. Unfortunately, widespread cultural and economic practices
